Distributed AV Solutions

Top-of-the-Line Distributed AV

Audio visual distribution systems can be complicated but are key to business success in a lot of industries.

Perfect audio, stunning visuals, and ease-of-use within these systems help to elevate guest experience, employee collaboration, and many other aspects.

Crunchy Tech will begin with a detailed needs analysis then we will design, install, and support a top-of-the-line distributed audio video system that meets all the needs of our clients.

CRUNCHY TECH

HOSPITALITY SOLUTIONS

Crunchy Tech has been in high-end restaurants, hotels, and retailers for more than a decade.

When a guest goes to a restaurant, hotel, or sports bars, they are expecting more than just great food and drinks, they are seeking an experience.

Audio and video play a big part in that experience, which is why it's important to invest in this area, and partner with an integrator like Crunchy Tech.

CORPORATE OFFICE SOLUTIONS

It is important that audio-visual technology used in an office environment increases productivity and functionality for employees.

Stunning distributed AV in an office is also key to making the space more welcoming to clients and customers.

Let Crunchy Tech raise the bar on any office to increase visual appeal and productivity.

EDUCATION SOLUTIONS

Schools, colleges, and universities have vast amounts of information to communicate to students, even outside the classroom, so it is important to have well-tuned distributed AV systems to make learning easier and more enjoyable.

Modern classrooms also now require environments that provide different conferencing options for delivering lessons. Crunchy Tech can design, install, and support top-of-the-line systems for any education center.

CRUNCHY TECH

GOVERNMENT SOLUTIONS

Distributed audio-visual systems are important for government offices, but it is also key that these systems are secure, and that procurement proposals and procedures are followed.

Government systems can be intricate, but for more than a decade, Crunchy Tech has designed, installed, and provided world class support for the most complex audio, video, collaboration, and communication technologies for state and local governments.

State and local government agencies trust Crunchy Tech as a partner to help increase collaboration through audio visual solutions.
